

THE CITY TREASURER'S REPORT

Fine Financial Statement of the Board of Control and City Council

Five Previous Years Have Each Showed a Very Large Overdraft

For the first time since Mayor Atty's resignation has the city's financial year early in January with a surplus of approximately $100,000. The Controller Jutes was sponsor for this statement, and while he did not say exactly what could be expected, he said that he was satisfied that the few departmental overdrafts which might be reported could be set off against the surplus.

Hamilton's total revenue for the fiscal year ending in 1919 carrying an overdraft of $125,456 from 1918. It was reported at this time that it would be impossible to take care of all of this overdraft. The Council agreed that 50 per cent of the overdraft would be paid off this year, and the remaining 50 per cent, if Controller Jutes's forecast proves to be accurate—this year's surplus will be available for the next year. This year the $100,000 surplus will be available to help pay the balance of the overdraft amounting to $125,456, thus leaving an indication of $125,000 facing next year's Council. To give the outlook, the brighter aspect, Hamilton's total assessment will be increased by about $100,000 dollars in 1920, which will mean revenue, in the form of taxes, amounting to approximately $150,000.

Controller Jutes took pardonable exception as a member of the Board of Control, in pointing out that the city, like everything else, had had its share of the high cost of living, and despite these increased costs, the city's salary increases to various city employees, was granted. The Controller said that the year with a handsome surplus of $100,000. All things considered, the city had done remarkably well, and while he did not think there will be any change of a lower tax rate next year, his financial position should be better than the end of 1918. He said that providing the school board does not ask for another mill, and other uncontrollable expenditures are kept down, said Controller Jutes.

ESTIMATED. When the Controller at the beginning of this year laid the task of finding the city's financial position, the sources, they fixed the sum at $1,677,208. He says, they under-estimated the revenue, and the total receipts to date amount to $2,700,000, thus leaving a surplus of $1,022,792. Salary increases and other unexpected expenditures, not included in the January estimate, for the year, had to be made, however, amounting to $125,456. Between now and the end of the year it is estimated that the city's departmental overdrafts which will absorb about $80,000, but even if there were still a surplus of $100,000.

AMOUNT WITHIN APPROPRIATIONS. With very few exceptions the various city departments have kept well within their appropriations. In almost only six instances has a deficit been reported, and these in the aggregate amount to about $10,000. Tax collector William Kerr estimated that his receipts for the year would total $235,750, which includes taxes, water rates, stationery, etc. The actual receipts amounted to $240,185, despite the fact that only about $10,000 of the estimated $200,000 from the statute book was collected.

Estimated receipts from the Hamilton Street Railway Company amounted to $75,000; while the actual receipts were $76,527. Estimated receipts from the City Hospital amounted to $110,000, while the city actually received was $125,000. Good management during the year has resulted in a surplus of $100,000. The city has a long losing position. It is estimated that the city has received some of the occupants paid for the rest of the built-up bed for effect this year, and that the estimated $250,000 receipts were received. The police department's receipts for the year were $100,000, while the actual receipts were $100,000.

Plumbing Inspector W. J. de Montigny showed a good surplus. Estimated revenue was fixed at $1,200, while the city actually received was $1,200. The fire cheque which Wiloughby killed, chairman of the Hyde Commission, recently handed the Board of Control, helped some too. The city estimated it would get $25,000 from the Hyde in profit from the street lighting, but it actually got $34,750, a net profit of $9,750 more than hoped for.

The Mount Hamilton Hospital also showed a surplus. Estimated receipts were fixed at $10,000, while the city actually received was $12,000. Thus, by the careful and efficient administration of the various city departments, it is estimated that the city has received a surplus of $100,000 at the end of this fiscal year. It is looked upon by Controller Jutes and other city officials as a certainty.

WHO COULD DO BETTER? Controller Jutes said that he was very well for the arm chair critics to raise their voices in loud protestations against the present state of affairs, but that he was not in a position to do so. He said that he was not in a position to do so, but that he was not in a position to do so.
